How do we use Bitcoin?

Every click and conversion is paid out in real time, and recorded on the Bitcoin SV blockchain. This means there is an automatic audit trail, and both parties can always retrieve transaction records, even years later.

Hello friend,

Congratulations on creating something worth sharing!

We're here to help you reach new customers in a meaningful way. Our unique approach to curation, payouts and pricing are designed to drive your key performance indicators while you watch the show from the dashboard.

TonicPow brings your brand together with social influencers to form agreements, monitor performance, and issue payments. We provide tools to create the perfect incentive system, driving whatever you value most.

Once you publish and fund a campaign, you can shop promoters and find the best partners for your brand. Track performance and visualize traffic in real time.

To answer your tech guy's questions in advance, yes we have an API, and yes we have libraries available in multiple languages for easy integration.
